chem-bla-ics

Tuning Google Results?

Egon Willighagen ⓘD

Citation

Keywords

Abstract

I was just about to install Subclipse (for the millionth time), and googled for the update site details:

Copyright

chem-bla-ics

I was just about to install Subclipse (for the millionth time), and googled for the update site details:

Does anyone know how you can get Google pick up or how it detects the Download/UpdateSite/etc pages, shown as direct links below the primary hit? Are HTML `<link>` elements used for that? Or does it use certain meta data, microformats, ...?